LEARNING FROM HOME EDITION

In the past two and a half weeks of learning from home, we are so thankful to all parents for supporting our students so well. Our teachers have created a 2-3 hour timetable of daily individualised learning activities that are there to support continued learning but not to create any extra stress or worry. Please don't feel you need to teach your child. We would love for you to help them understand a task and to help them complete an activity if assistance is needed but just offering them encouragement and praise is often all that is required. However, please know that children are always learning and this can happen in nature, while playing music or dancing, when cooking or when they are using their imagination during creative play. Let's continue to prioritise children's wellbeing over traditional academic learning so that they are happy and safe and together we can look forward to life returning to normal as soon as possible. Take care of yourselves and please don't hesitate to contact any member of staff if we can help or assist at all in the next two weeks of continued learning from home.
